Guide to Easy Fence Selection

There are many types of fence and each is meant to perform a specific job. This guide will help you select the best fence to serve your needs.

Mesh Design

Fence is constructed by forming the wire into uniform patterns called "mesh." Each mesh design has been refined through years of experience and use.

SQUARED MESH

Wire is either welded to form squares or rectangles – vertical or horizontal. This mesh pattern is used mostly with heavier gauge wire.

HEXAGONAL MESH (commonly called netting)
Made of a lightweight wire that is woven to form a hexagon.

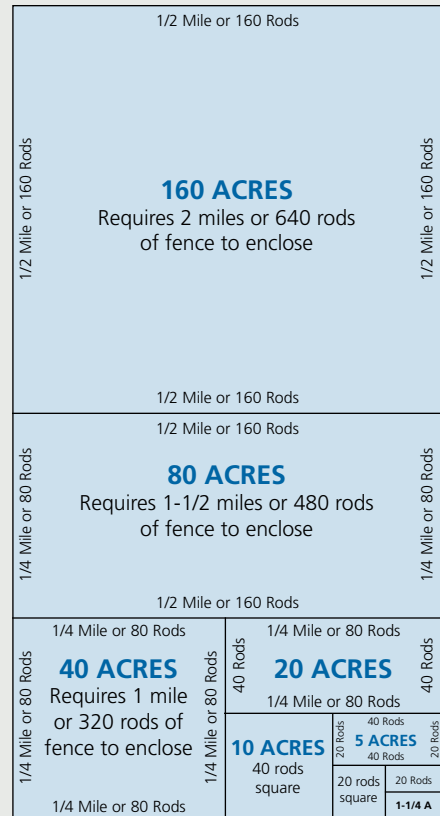

Wire Gauge

Fencing is made from various gauges of wire – from very heavy to very light. The chart at the right shows you the size of each gauge (Ga.) wire used in making fencing. The larger the number, the smaller the wire.

Acreage Guide

Use this diagram to calculate the number of rods/footage of fence required to enclose fields of different sizes.

1 rod = 16-1/2 ft.

10 rods = 165 ft.

20 rods = 330 ft.

1/4 mile = 1,320 ft. or 80 rods

1/2 mile = 2,640 ft. or 160 rods

1 mile = 5,280 ft. or 320 rods

Welded Wire

Welded Wire (General Purpose Fabric) is a multi-purpose fence used for all types of farm and home applications. Some of the popular usages include cages, livestock panels, garden fencing and temporary pens. Solid welded construction ensures a sturdy fence design.

How to “Read” Red Brand® Fence

Look for the style number, which is a quick description of the important dimensions of the fence it classifies.

Example: Style #1047-6-12-1/2, 10 number of line wires, 47 inches in height, 6” spacing between vertical stay wires, 12-1/2 wire gauge

“Knots” Make a Fence!

Many heavy gauge wire fence styles are made by “tying” sections of wire together with “knots.” Red Brand uses two types of knots, each with a specific advantage in use.

RED BRAND® EXCLUSIVE SQUARE DEAL® KNOT.

This construction prevents fence from buckling or sagging. It provides extra vertical strength and rigidity while allowing flexibility for ideal installation over hilly terrain. One-piece vertical stay wires are tied to line wires and crimped at the joint to prevent slippage.

UNIQUE MONARCH® KNOT.

This knot acts as a hinge that gives under pressure, then springs back into shape. Monarch fence is easy to install because the hinge “gives.” The fence always retains its full height for continuing protection and good looks. Vertical wires are individually cut and wrapped for maximum strength flexibility.

Field Fence is available in different heights with your choice of the Square Deal® Knot or the Monarch® Knot. An all terrain graduated fencing, ideal for rolling hilly areas, corrals and pastures.
